Multi-Angle Collage

Find an object that is interesting to you and that you would want to paint. Object shouldn't be overly complex. It should have some interesting elements, texture or surface. Photograph it from multiple angles. You will combine these images to make one composition.

Upload the image(s) onto Pixlr.com using your chrome book. Edit your photos and highly stylize them. Play around a lot with the look of the photographs. Alter the color so that you get something very interesting.

- Focus on photographing a single subject from multiple viewpoints or angles.
- Using a minimum of (4) images of the single subject, use Pixlr Express Online Editor, or a similar program, to combine these images together into a single collage like final product
- Each individual image should be run through an effect or filter to give it unique color or texture

<https://pixlr.com/express/> has a built in collage tool. Or you can make your own, more complex design depending on your own app or skills
